

Abstract

The invention is and can be a security system for homes , Businesses, area's and individuals. That would be able to anticipate a problem before it developed . Using past information and current information.